100 CENTS.

☞ Yesterday compleated the first quarter since the Mirror has been under the direction of its present Editor.

The countenance of its former friends, and the increase of subscription are highly flattering to him—but something more than good wishes is indispensably necessary. He knows from experience that there are many, who are punctual to the hour, in the payment of a sum of consequence, that neglect so trifling a demand as that of a 100 Cents (the price of a quarter's subscription) which they would not do if they would consider that however small the sum is to them individually, yet in the aggregate, with the printer, it becomes a matter of serious consequence—it being his chief resource, for the discharge of the various and heavy expences he necessarily incurs; for the major part of which he could not reasonably expect credit, and in the article of paper alone (one of the most considerable items in his expences) a short credit is considered a favor.

Subscribers in town will be waited on with their respective Bills—gentlemen in the country will please to forward their quarterage by mail or otherwise, for which he will return them a receipt.

FROM THE NEW YORK MERCANTILE ADVERTISER.

By the Fair Traider, from New-Providence, we have received Bahama Gazettes to the 4th ult.—An arrival there from Glaſgow, had brought foreign news to the 7th December, only—of courſe nothing new. The only articles of a nature intereſting to America, are contained in the three Proclamations from General Bowlas, the Indian Chief. The firſt of theſe, relative to the agents appointed under the treaty betwesn the United States and Spain, to draw the boundary line, has already appeared in the Mercantile Advertiſer; the ſecond and third are in the following terms. [It may be neceſſary to remark that theſe three Proclamations are not given in the Bahama Gazette as articles of intelligence, but as official advertiſements.]

PROCLAMATION.

Know all men, That it ever has been and ſtill is our intention to protect and advance the intereſts and dignity of Muſkugee; to introduce, arts, manufactures, and a well regulated commerce, eſſentially neceſſary to better the ſituation or ſtate of all our beloved people, and to the well being of our nation.

Feeling with a juſt degree of ſenſibility the unfortunate ſituation of numbers of worthy Europ an families, who for their principles have been forced from their country and poſſeſſions, and obliged to ſearch for a place of reſidence and protection. We having a large tract of territory unoccupied, being fully veſted with authority, do freely offer to all ſuch perſons ſo ſituated, the enjoyment thereof, with the rights of citizens of Muſkugee. We do promiſe to each perſon who ſhall claim our protection one hundred acres of land, ſituated within thirty miles of the ſea or bay of Apparlachie to Cape Sable. And all ſuch as have means and are deſirous to purchaſe a large extent of territory in land, may obtain the ſame, by making application to the Supreme Court of Muſkugee to that effect.

Given under our hand at Apparlachie this 26th day of November 1799
(Signed)
WM. A. BOWLES,
Director Genl. of Muſkugee.
God ſave the State of Muſkugee.

God ſave the State of Muſkugee.

Purſuant to a decree paſſed in the Supreme Council of Muſkugee, the 25th day of October, 1798, declaring the ports of Apparlhachie, Okwetokne, and Tampe free ports to all nations not at war with us at the time, the which not having been carried into effect,

We the Director General of Muſkugee being fully authorized and empowered by a decree of the Chiefs in ſpecial council held at Wekura, the 26th day of October, 1799, for the immediate eſtabliſhment of the ſaid ports, or any of them as we may judge proper, to the better encouragement and protection of commerce. We do by our authority hereby declare the port of Apparlhachie in the Bay of St. George, a free port to all nations not at war with us. The veſſels entering the ſaid port of Apparlhachie, ſubject only to pay the duties of introduction impoſed by law, as follows:

All ſpirituous liquors that may or ſhall be imported into our territories after the 1ſt day of January, 1800, ſhall pay a duty of ſix pence per gallon entry; and all foreign ware and merchandize that may or ſhall be imported after the ſaid 1ſt day of January, 1800, ſhall pay two and a half per cent.

Given under our hands at Apparlhachie, this 29th day of November, 1799.

NEW-YORK, MARCH 14.

Office of the Daily Advertiſer, half paſt 11, A. M.

To our ſurpriſe the Dublin Packet, has brought London dates only two days later than have already been received. The news ſhe brings cannot therefore be very intereſting.

The only article of conſequence is, that the late rumors of peace begin to aſſume a deciſive tone.—We ſhall give further extracts to-morrow.

LONDON, DECEMBER 20.

A variety of rumors are in circulation relative to the views of the cabinets on the continent. It is ſaid that Mr. Ayleſworth, the meſſenger, who arrived lately from Vienna, brought diſpatches to miniſters, which tend to confirm the opinion that Auſtria is diſpoſed to conclude a peace with France. It is alſo reported that propoſitions for a negociation have actually been tranſmitted to this country through the medium of the Pruſſian cabinet.—Albion.

It is aſſerted, if the emperor of Germany concludes a treaty of partition with France, at which the feelings of other governments muſt revolt, he will have cauſe to dread the indignation of thoſe powers. This cannot be true; for admitting for inſtance that England and Ruſſia could endanger his exiſtence as a prince, what would be the conſequence of an attack by them? The moment the emperor Francis found himſelf cloſely preſſed, perhaps before he would throw himſelf into the arms of France, and thus promote the cauſe of the revolution, oppoſition to which is here pretended to be the only object of hoſtility—if England and Ruſſia be ſincere in their profeſſions, they would dread attacking Auſtria, under theſe circumſtances, more than ſanctioning her acquiſitions.—Ibid.

Among other ſpeculations upon the terms of partition upon which France and Auſtria may conclude a treaty of peace, it is conjectured, that Bavaria may be ſacrificed, the elector of which has broken all terms with France, and has thrown himſelf into the arms of Ruſſia. France muſt, therefore, feel leſs deſire to protect that electorate, and we all know that Auſtria, has long coveted it as its moſt darling object. By the ſecret articles of the treaty of Campo Formio, it is believed that part of Bavaria was given to Auſtria, and by the next treaty the whole of the territory may be aſſigned. Such an unprincipled act would, probably excite the reſentment, and, perhaps, the hoſtility of Ruſſia, which would feel a duty in protecting Bavaria; but if Auſtria, Pruſſia & France ſanction the meaſure, as they probably would, the efforts of Ruſſia could produce no effect.—Ibid.

DUBLIN, DECEMBER 24.

Proſpect of Peace.

A letter from London by Monday's mail, contains an obſervation on the miniſterial prints there affecting to ſhake the credibility of an armiſtice being concluded between the Auſtrian and French armies on the Rhine, &c. which in our opinions merits the attention of the ſtockholders in this country. That an armiſtice has been concluded is by a corroboration of letters confirming it, a fact beyond a doubt, and that there is the ſtrongeſt probability it has ere this extended to every hoſtile nation, muſt be admitted; which circumſtance together with the dereliction of the Ruſſian troops, authorizes an hope of a ſpeedy and general pacification. The cabinet, continues our correſpondent, is not ignorant of this, but wiſhes that its financial agents may repair all their paſt loſſes, by purchaſing at a low rate, before the certainty of a peace riſes the funds, and this object is beſt accompliſhed by keeping them low for the preſent!

The recal of the Ruſſian army is attributed in the Paris papers to the following cauſes:—The conduct of general Frolich in attempting to take poſſeſſion of the Roman territory in the name of Auſtria;—The formal refuſal of the Auſtrians to permit the king of Sardinia's return to Tunis; the obſtacle oppoſed by them to the return of the grand duke of Florence;—the official acts by which they exerciſe ſovereignty of Piedmont in the emperor's name;—the intrigues by which they prevailed on Suwarrow to leave Italy, that they might treat it as a conquered country; and their oppoſition to the propoſed journey of the ci-devant count d'Artois to Switzerland.

Buonaparte with great modeſty aſſures the councils that he is neither a Cæſar nor a Cromwell, and he takes great merit to himſelf for not being one of them. 'If he had wiſhed to uſurp, he would have done it long ago; nothing could have prevented him.' Well done Corſican! but oh! poor Great Nation!

Buonaparte is more attentive to dreſs than Suwarrow. He borrowed Jean Debry's waiſtcoat, but that was upon a nice occaſion. He does not like the pretty changeable ſilks and fine feathers of the late directors. David the painter, and Chenier, the poet, are employed to deviſe the ſublime of a cuſtume fit for the conquerer of Italy, Egypt, Syria and France. His hat is to be in the form of Pompey's Pillar; his ſword in the ſhape of Cleopatra's needle; his breeches deſcribe the bridge of Lodi; and upon the borders of his robe are to be pourtrayed all his heroic adventures, from the maſſacre at Alexandria to the ſiege of the council at St. Cloud.

The Ruſſian General d'Herman who was taken priſoner by the French in the action of the 19th of September, in Holland, having been diſgraced by the Emperor Paul, is about to publiſh a juſtification of his conduct in the Frankfort Gazette. There can be little doubt but that this publication will be eagerly read, as it will throw light upon tranſactions in which the Country feels the deepeſt intereſt.

The fate of General Herman's Lady is much to be deplored. She fought by the ſide of her gallant huſband in all the late actions in Holland. In that of the 26th of September ſhe loſt a life devoted to conjugal affection and the ſacred rights of humanity.

The illiberal reflections thrown out againſt the want of judgment in thoſe who plan, and the want of ſkill in thoſe who conduct military operations, whenever they prove unſucceſsful, remind us of the anecdote of the Emperor of Germany; who, putting his finger on a ſpot in the map, told his General, he ought to have croſſed the river in that point. "True," anſwered the officer, "but your Imperial finger is not a bridge."

PHILADELPHIA, MARCH 13.

Arrived yeſterday and fired a ſalute, the armed ſhip Molly, captain Swaine, from Batavia.—The Molly ſailed on the evening of the 8th October, in company with the Alexander Hamilton, Wiſe, and the Java, Debutts, of Baltimore, under an agreement to keep company, which we did until the 4th November, when we parted with the Java, at the town of Balli, in the Straits of Allais, where we ſtopped until the 5th, in the evening of which we left the land, ſhaping our courſe for the Cape of Good Hope. On the 26th December parted with the Alexander Hamilton, off the Cape of Good Hope, being obliged to go into Table Bay, in order to put Mr. Truthell, the ſupercargo, on ſhore, on account of his health. But it was too late, for he died the following morning, December 27th. We remained at the Cape until the 29th, and then ſailed for Philadelphia.

On our arrival at the Cape we found there had been a late arrival of a fleet from London, convoyed by the Lancaſter of 64 guns, admiral ſir Roger Curtis, which brought out ſir George Young as governor. Left there the ſhip Eliza, captain Folger, of and from Boſton for Batavia, and the brig Hannah, Captain Weyman, from Calcutta to Boſton, who had got aſhore and was obliged to land his cargo, by which means he got off again, and was expected to be ready to ſail in all January. Found here alſo a Hamburg ſhip, which ſailed ten days after us, and came through the Straits of Sunda, who informed that he ſaw no French cruiſer, and that he left all the American veſſels, below mentioned, ſtill at Batavia, and that two more had arrived ſince our departure, but did not know their names or where from. The brig Jefferſon had ſtopped at the Cape, on the 15th November, and ſailed for Batavia on the 20th, all well.

Capt. Briges, of the ſhip Anubia, of Boſton, came paſſenger in the Molly.—The Anubia was one of the unfortunate veſſels that were loſt on the 15th November laſt, at the Cape of Good Hope.

Theſe ſhips had captured ſeveral veſſels whoſe crews had arrived at Batavia, before we left it, in conſequence of orders from the Iſle of France, to capture all American property. Among them was a Daniſh ſhip from the coaſt of Coromandel and a Portugueſe brig from Europe.—There was alſo a privateer brig in the road of Batavia of 14 guns, ready for ſailing.

MARCH 14.

Extract of a letter from our Correſpondent in New York, dated March 13.

"It will be good news to your underwriters to be informed, that this morning arrived here from Port-de Paix, the ſloop Orphea. On the 9th inſt. off the Capes, ſpoke the ſhip Molly, Swaine, 72 days from Batavia, bound to Philadelphia.

"An Engliſh frigate from Hampton Roads, and a brig from Jamaica, anchored in our harbour yeſterday; and two or three ſquare rigged veſſels are coming up; to-morrow you may look for news—there is a proſpect of your not being diſappointed."

BALTIMORE, MARCH 17.

Arrived at Savannah, about the 25th ultimo, the brig Hannah, capt. James Cannon, 25 days from St Vincents, who informs, that previous to his departure, the Cork fleet, had arrived, under convoy of one frigate, one 44, and a ſloop of war, who on their paſſage, to windward of Barbadoes, fell in with two French frigates and one corvette, having on board Victor Hughes, with 1220 troops, bound to Cayenne—the Britiſh frigate engaged the two French frigates two hours; on the approach of the 44, they took to their heels—they were purſued for 24 hours without ſucceſs. The captain of the ſloop of war, at the commencement of the action, run off, and was, immediately on his arrival in port, ſent to England under arreſt.

RICHMOND, MARCH 14.

On Tueſday laſt came on before the Court of Huſtings for this city the trial of cadet CARY and ſerjeant HACKETT, charged with having been concerned in forcibly reſcuing a criminal by the name Tribble, from the civil authority, and who were bound over in November laſt for their further appearance.—We underſtand that the Court have inflicted the puniſhment of twelve months impriſonment, and fined them each in the ſum of one hundred dollars, to ſtand committed until paid.

NEW-YORK, MARCH 14.

In juſtice to the memory of the unfortunate Thomas Hamilton Hughes, who died in the county priſon on the 3d inſt. we are deſired to inſert the following circumſtance, as a proof of his exemplary conduct, and the eſteem of his fellow priſoners during his confinement in the ſtate prison. Soon after his death was announced in that unhappy mansion, the prisoners impressed with a respectful sense of their duty, and wishing to pay every respect to a man so justly entitled to the good opinion of every person in and about the prison; having obtained leave of the inspectors, assembled in prayer on the following day, when a sermon suitable to the occasion was delivered by one of the prisoners, and the day spent with that solemnity due upon such an awful occasion.

Alexandria, March 20.

The Freeholders of Fairfax County are respectfully informed, that THOMAS SWANN and RICHARD BLAND LEE, Esqs. will serve as delegates for this county, in the next Assembly, if honored with their suffrages at the ensuing election.

From a Kingston paper of the 11th of February, received by an arrival at Charleston.

In addition to the above account [a copy of Commodore Truxton's journal, as heretofore published] the following particulars are communicated by Captain Fulford.

The Constellation and Insurgente had been cruising in company for near six weeks, on the look out for the French frigate, and their information had stated her to be a cut down 74, carrying 24 pounders on her gun deck. The Insurgente parted with the Constellation in the night of Friday, 31st January, and on the morning of the 1st February, capt. Truxton got sight of the French frigate.

Capt. Fulford was on board the Constellation in Kingston harbour; and from her shattered appearance, concludes the action to have been as hard and warm as any ever fought; the Constellation had almost every article of her rigging shot away, and on her quarter some of the shot had penetrated through her live oak timbers, 18 inches in thickness. The officers informed capt. Fulford, that they lay within pistol shot of each other during the whole engagement, which lasted 5 hours, during all which time an unremitted fire was kept up, and that frequently the yard arms of the two ships were in contact—It was the general opinion on board the Constellation, that the Frenchman had struck his colours to the gallant Truxton, and took advantage of his mainmast going overboard, to sheer off. The two ships separated at 2 A. M. and from the light winds which prevailed, and the uncommon disabled state of the Frenchman, it was impossible she could have been more than a few knots ahead, if afloat. At day break, however, she was not visible from the mast head, and it was concluded that she had sunk in the night.

FROM THE VIRGINIA FEDERALIST.

We have expected for some time to announce to our fellow citizens, the "Federal Republican Ticket," or list of federal electors to chuse a president and vice-president of the United States; but we suppose the persons who have been selected to discharge this important office, have failed to notify their willingness to act—or certainly the public patience would not have been so severely tried.

It has already, and perhaps not unnecessarily been hinted, that we had a subtle foe to deal with, and it is hoped that this warning will not be ineffectual. Already has he circulated letters to the different leaders of the corps, which we learn from indubitable authority, contain certain instructions as to the mode of proceeding pending the election, which are to be kept secret.

What sort of plan can that be which thus shuns the light?

A public election of characters chosen for a particular purpose, is approaching, and one part of the community have concerted a scheme of which the other part is to be kept totally ignorant.

We shall exhibit a conduct in the Federalists whole candor and openess will excite in their opponents the bluth of shame.

The importations of the city of Hamburg, from Jan. 1 1799, to the last of october, equals in the two following articles, nearly the whole amount of the Exports of the United States for one year.—The fact is astonishing, but it is true that 40,325,000 wt. of coffee: 30,542 hhds. 40,226 bags 24,196 Brasil boxes, and 80,573 Havannah boxes of sugar, were imported in that city during the period above stated. (New-York Pap.)

A resolution has passed the General Assembly of of Rhode-Island, appointing a committee to procure two full-length Pictures of GENERAL WASHINGTON, to be placed in the State-houses in Newport and Providence.

FROM THE YORK RECORDER.

COMMUNICATION.

A friend of mine, a Captain of an American vessel, gave me the following account of one of his Passengers, which will serve as a specimen of FRENCH HUMANITY.

"On my passage from Philadelphia to France in the year 1797, a conversation took place between myself and a Passenger in my ship—The subject was the probability of a Peace taking place and a permanent Government being established on true Republican Principles—I observed that the army in general was not very well informed with respect to what might be considered the real interest of their country, and I thought it would be a difficult Task, to disband a powerful and virtuous army without their receiving a compensation for their services which I conceived the exhausted Finances of the Republic were not equal to.—

Monsieur replied—"My dear Friend dere is notting to eaty in dis World!—Cannot de Nation send dem to the West Indies, vere de vill all die vid de yellow fevre, which I tink will be de most effectual metnod of getting clear of men we have no use for."

The same Captain was once captured by the French, and in a letter to his friend he gave the following description of the Judge who was to try his vessel and cargo.

"The judge before whom my trial will take place, is a little old looking fellow, with bandy legs not thicker than pike shanks with feet a yard long, in the centre of which the legs, (if they may be so called) were placed; his HEAD uncommonly large and decorated with what I would have called a GREASY RED NIGHT CAP. but by the Islanders termed the BONNET ROUGE—on the front of the head a couple of small holes seemed to be perforated, and a small BLACK HEAD fixed in each by way of eyes, over which, like two umbrellas, were suspended two large shigged red, bushy bunches of hair, that served for eye brows, with a little owl looking face, having a saffron tint, from whence projected—Oh father of the Shandy's!—such a nose as my eyes never beheld. It was the segment of a circle, painted red and yellow and if it could assume a straight direction would at last measure the length of a modern tippy—He had a most plentiful lack or paunch and such as had grumbled most damnably, he was so ill looking and hard favored a fellow, that he appeared to me as though he had never enjoyed a comfortable meal in his life—in short he seemed to have lived all his day upon BILGE WATER AND BALLAST STONE."

We have seen, among the papers which we have perused this week, an advertisement of a Mr. Dun, appointed to collect the outstanding debts of a person deceased. We admire and highly applaud the choice of the person commissioned to make the appointment of Mr. D—, and think that he could not have nominated a more suitable person for an administrator, nor one whose name and duty so perfectly correspond.

A Gentleman had lately occasion to call on an acquaintance and enquired of an Irish servant if his master was at home, was told he was not. "When will he return?" said the gentleman. "J—s said Teague, when my master gives orders to say that he is not at home, it is impossible to say when he will return."

Surprising feats of Chinese activity; from Van Braam's history of the Dutch Embassy to the Court of China.

A man lying down on his back, held up his legs vertically in the air. Upon the sole of his feet was next placed a ladder of six long steps, with a flat board at the bottom. A child of seven or eight years of age then climbed up the steps and sitting upon the upper one, played a number of monkey tricks, while the man kept turning the ladder first one way and then another. The child afterwards descended and ascended, twisting his body in such a way between the steps, that the different parts of it were alternately on the opposite side of the ladder. This diversion lasted at least a quarter of an hour.

When the exhibition of the ladder was over, two men brought an enormous earthen vessel, which must certainly have weighed more than a hundred and twenty five pounds, and which they laid sideways upon the feet of the strong man, who turned it round and round and over and over with astonishing rapidity. The child was then put into the vessel at the moment the mouth of it was turned from the Emperor, towards whom it was immediately brought round again by the man. The boy then made signs of respect, and climbing over the edge, got upon the top of the vessel, seated himself there, and assumed a variety of attitudes letting himself hang down over the edge, which he held by his hands, and enlivening the performance by a thousand play-ful tricks.

KNOXVILLE, MARCH 5.

FUNERAL HONORS.

Agreeable to the orders of the hon. majgen. Pinckney, the 22d instant was observed by the troops of the garrisons of South West Point and Tellico, for solemnizing the funeral honors of the late illustrious general George Washington.

At both garrisons, the dawn of the morn which was lucid and beautiful, was introduced by the revellee, after which a discharge of 16 cannon announced to this western world, the death of the beloved chief of the American army; as well as the friend and benefactor of mankind.

At the cessation of the 16 guns from the artillery park, succeeded the half hour guns which mournfully echoed through and from the woods of the Indians, the loss of their great father Washington, and to all, that he had left the American armies here below to rank with the heavenly host above.

At 12 o'clock the troops at South West Point, under the command of Major Peters, paraded, the right extending from the South gate of the garrison, they were joined by capt. Crozier's troop of volunteer cavalry from Knoxville, which flanked the left—the regular cavalry, Captain Ball, upon the extreme left. The line being formed, the bier, preceded by the reverend Mr. Carrick, carried by four serjeants—the pall supported by

Lieut. Swaine,	Capt. Sparks,
Maj. M'Clung,	Maj. Lewis,
Gen. White,	Judge Roane,

passed through the South gate of the garrison upon the right of the line, which the troops received with reverential respect, with presented arms, to the centre of the line—when the troops reversing their arms wheeled to the left by divisions forming their inverted order, marched with solemn slowness in front of the bier, —then the procession began, consisting of his excellency governor Sevier, and a number of principal citizens as mourners—captain Bird, with nine principal Cherokee chiefs—a number of the citizens of Tennessee—after which many of the common Indians in order closed a respectable procession, all indicative of true mourning and sorrow for the loss of their common parent.

When the procession arrived at the place for the last honors to be paid to the departed hero and friend to the human race, the troops halted, and as usual opened their ranks, leaning on their arms in an affectionate attitude, for the procession to pass through. After a solemn pause for a long time, and the orders of major general Hamilton being read by lieutenant Salmon, the rev. Mr. Carrick ascended the pulpit (erected for the purpose) and gave the audience an affecting and well adapted discourse, touching upon the virtues, and most conspicuous excellencies of the late great character—exhorting all in their different situations, to imitate his civil, military and private examples.

It was very pleasing to see the friendship and sociability that reigned between the troops and citizens, and much praise is due to major Peters and the officers for their hospitable reception of the citizens.

It may be noticed that on the evening of that day two children were born in those garrisons. The one a son to the lady of capt. Butler—the other a daughter to the lady of Capt. Lockwood. The son of capt. Butler bears the name of George Washington—the daughter of capt. Lockwood the name of Martha Washington.

Commission, Ship Broker AND Conveyancer's Office,

In the Brick House, near the Bank, opposite Printing-Office of Mr. Price.

FROM a view of the new Navigation and Revenue Laws of the United States, I have been encouraged to open the above Office, from a belief that the said laws require more attention than persons in general concerned in trade and navigation will find convenient to pay them, in order to avoid incurring the penalties inflicted for not complying with the requisitions thereof. Where every form and instrument of writing appertaining to shipping, entry, clearance, imports, exports, excise, drawbacks and debentures, required by the laws of the United States and the officers of the government may be had. I have also taken such steps as will, in a short time, insure me accurate information respecting the restrictions on our trade in foreign countries, and particularly at such foreign port or place where an American consul or agent may reside, with the formalities necessary to be observed, and the fees, duties, &c. payable thereat.

SEVEN hundred and eighty-eight acres in the county of Hampshire, on the waters of Great Cape Capon, about 20 miles from the Warm Springs, and 30 from Winchester.—This land is full of wood, oak and Pine Timber. Two excellent farms may be made, with 30 to 50 acres of bottom, and rich high lands to each; and in the heart of the timber there is a fine seat for a saw-mill. Capt. Daniel Rice will shew the lands.

Three thousand eight hundred and forty-five acres in the county of Ohio, on the waters of Grave and Fish creeks, near the river Ohio, and about 80 miles below Pittsburg. Some of these lands are very good, with considerable quantities of rich bottom, and plenty of excellent timber. Robert Woods, Esq. the Surveyor of that county, will shew these lands.

One hundred seventy six and three-fourths acres, within three miles of the Warm Springs, upon Great Cape-Capon, near its mouth, and within ¼ of a mile of the River Potomak. This land has about 70 to 80 acres of rich bottom, mostly in cultivation, with 274 fine sugar trees on it; from which, I am informed, there may be made 3000lb. of good sugar annually. There is also a seat for grist and saw mills on it, equal to any in that neighbourhood, and upon a never failing stream of water. The upland is rich, with plenty of timber, and part under cultivation. This farm is well improved with a good orchard, houses and fencing, and rented last year for produce equal to sixty pounds per an. Mr. Joseph Butler, at the Warm Springs, will shew it. I will sell all, or any of the above lands for cash, or upon credit, or take in exchange for them lands in Fairfax County, or Lots of land in the town of Alexandria, or the city of Washington.

Contracts for Potomak Navigation.

AT the Great Falls of Potomak, there are five Locks to be inserted. The seat for one of these locks is already excavated. The pitts of the other four are still to be excavated. The President and Directors are anxious to contract for the completion of the said locks, and they will contract separately for the excavation of the Lock Pits, or any of them, or any other part of the work.

This work is well worth the attention of those persons who are accustomed to undertakings of this nature, as it is of considerable magnitude. There will be about 4300 cubit yards of stone to remove in the excavation, and the President and Directors are disposed to grant liberal terms to those that will prosecute it with spirit and to a speedy completion. The funds for the payment are not contingent, but already in their hands.

Any person disposed to engage in this work will make application to the subscriber as soon as possible, as the season for commencing the operations is fast approaching. He has in his possession the plan of the work to be done, and can give every information as to the mode of execution.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY yesterday morning, a Mulatto Man, named EDWARD, who formerly belonged to Mr. J. Ambler, of the City of Richmond, and was sold by Mr. Ambler in June, 1796, to Mr. William Radford—the September following Mr. Radford sold him to Major P. B. Oram. Edward rode with Major Oram, as his servant, through several of the States. In Philadelphia, July 1797, he was sold by Major Oram to Mr. William Glassell, of Fredericksburg, of whom I purchased him. Edward is a light Mulatto, with grey eyes, about twenty two or three years of age, is a good Barber, Hairdresser and Tailor; took with him a variety of clothing; amongst which were a suit of superfine blue cloth, with buckskin breeches, quite new, a short blue waistcoat and breeches, also new, a swandown under waistcoat, a pair of half-boots, with slip tops. He is an artful fellow, and probably has procured a pass, and will endeavour to pass as a free man. I will give the above reward on his being brought home, or Thirty Dollars, if secured in any gaol so that I get him again.

He is an old offender, this being the third time he has eloped from me, and once at least from a former master, to whom he was bound, in Loudoun County. FOR the delivery of BEN, a Negro Man, the property of Ben. D. Wills, to the Subscriber. Ben, I suppose, calls himself Jeffery, as he obtained a certificate from a Negro who was emancipated by —— Mayo, of Cumberland County, Virginia, of that name. Ben eloped in the Fall of 1797, and went on towards Fredericksburg. It is very probable he is about Alexandria, the Federal City, or Baltimore. He is of the following description, viz. tolerably dark, flat nose, thick lips, knock-kneed, small legs, about 5 feet 7 inches high, carries himself crooked in the shoulders, and throws his feet a little out when he moves, yet he is strong, active and very arch indeed. He no doubt calls himself a freeman, and if taken will get off if possible. I am told the certificate is on parchment, but am not certain. The above reward will be given for his delivery to me, or Twenty Dollars, if secured in any jail in Virginia, and information duly given me of it.
